SRBI and Applications
for Daily Instructional Practice
(K-12)

Dr. Mary Howard is an internationally renowned expert, leader, and change-agent in the field of literacy. She is the author of RTI from All Sides: What Every Teacher Needs to Know (Heinemann, 2009). A powerhouse consultant and dynamic speaker, Mary has worked with countless educators to create literacy programs grounded in current cognitive research. She is often described as a “teachers’ teacher,” gifted with special insight into classroom realities and a master at translating research into practice. Mary provides an expert blend of practical application.
* No breakfast served due to university restrictions.

Sponsored by CRA and the Connecticut Association for Reading Research (CARR)

Each event includes a light breakfast, CEUs, and time to network with colleagues. The last 30 minutes of each event will be designated as breakout sessions for special interest groups (K-2, 3-5, 6-12, and administrators). These facilitated groups will have an opportunity to discuss applications and implementation of lecture topics, to enroll on-line for future correspondence, and to pose group questions to the presenters that relate to their particular special interest group. Alran Books, the official bookstore of the CRA Lecture Series, will also be available for purchasing professional development materials.
